

LINH PHUONG NGUYEN

Studied as a guest student at Albertina Belle di Arti Torino 2006 - 2007

Studied as a guest student at Stadelschule Frankfurt with Tobias Rehberger 2015 - 2017

Lives and works in Hanoi, Vietnam

Linh Phuong Nguyen's multidisciplinary practice spans installation, sculpture and video. Linh concerns about geographic cultural shift, traditional roots and fragmented history in Vietnam – a complex nexus of ethnicities, religions, and cultural and geo-political influences. Her works contemplate upon the visible/invisible truth, form and time, and convey a pervasive sense of dislocation and the ephemeral. Her solo exhibitions have been held in Vietnam and Fukuoka. Linh has participated in group shows in San Francisco, Amman and Umea, as well as the Singapore Biennale, Kuandu Biennale Taipei and Shanghai Biennale in 2016

Linh Phuong Nguyen was born and nurtured by living among and working with many of the most respected contemporary artists of the Vietnam art scene at Nha San – the first non-profit artist run art space for experimental art based in her father's home in Hanoi. After Nha San was closed down due to authority in 2011, Linh co-found and co-directed Nha San Collective, a group of young artists who dedicate to push boundaries of expression and whom tensions critique traditional roots, history and globalization.
